An artificial neural network is a network of simple elements called artificial neurons, which receive input, change their internal state (activation) according to that input, and produce output depending on the input and activation.

A probabilistic neural network (PNN) is a four-layer feedforward neural network. The layers are Input, hidden, pattern/summation and output. In the PNN algorithm, the parent probability distribution function (PDF) of each class is approximated by a Parzen window and a non-parametric function.

Radial basis function (RBF) networks are FFNNs with radial basis functions as activation functions. There's nothing more to it. Doesn't mean they don't have their uses, but most FFNNs with other activation functions get their own name.
